

Producers who appear together on a delivery permit are each liable for all debts and obligations attributable to the delivery permit from CWB delivery contracts and Producer Payment Options (PPO). The Continuing Personal Guarantee (CPG) form ensures producers are aware of this pre-existing responsibility. The CPG relates specifically to delivery contracts and PPOs, and is not related to the cash advance program.

A CPG must be completed by those appearing together on a delivery permit before they are eligible to sign up a PPO contract.

CPG forms are not required for the following name types:

- individual
- corporation

New and existing delivery permits

The guarantee form is included with the New producer delivery permit application. From our Web site homepage, click Farmers>CWB delivery permit>New producers>2011-12 New producer delivery permit application.

Producers with existing delivery permits can get the CPG form online at www.cwb.ca/cpg.

Fax the signed form to 1-204-983-8031.

Examples of when guarantee forms are required

The actual producer is a partnership, trade name or joint operation – the actual producer completes a guarantee form.

The actual producer is an individual and the landlord is a partnership or joint operation – the landlord completes a guarantee form.

The actual producer and the landlord are both partnerships or joint operations – the actual producer and landlord each complete a guarantee form.

The actual producer is a joint operation that contains a partnership – the actual producer completes a guarantee form, and the included partnership completes a separate guarantee form.

Example where only one form is required:

- John Simpson + Mary Brown
both must sign
- Walton Farms
all individuals who are part of Walton Farms must sign
- Brook Acres Ltd + ABC Farms Ltd
one signing officer for each company must sign the form and indicate their position in the company

Example of a joint operation containing a partnership:

John Smith + XYZ Farms complete two forms:

- One form for the joint operation John Smith + XYZ Farms (the form must be signed by John Smith and one member of XYZ Farms with signing authority)
- One form for the partnership XYZ Farms (the form must be signed by all individuals who are part of XYZ Farms)

When a producer is unable to sign, the form must be signed by a person with power of attorney for the producer or by the executor if the producer is deceased. See the Signing CWB documents information sheet.

Fax the completed form to 1-204-983-8031 or return it to us by mail. For additional forms, go to www.cwb.ca/cpg.
